

Thyroid Support

(Capsules)

Poor thyroid function can dramatically increase your risk of obesity, heart disease, anxiety and depression, hair loss, sexual dysfunction and a host of other health problems.

In addition to aging, one of the main reasons our thyroids slow down is iodine deficiency. In fact, 40 percent of us are at risk for iodine deficiency and hypothyroidism. It is imperative that we provide our bodies with the nutrients that are essential for healthy thyroid function.

Ensuring efficient thyroid function is essential to the prevention of disease and metabolic syndrome. Maintaining and improving your body composition will require optimal thyroid function as well.

Thyroid Support is a cutting edge dietary supplement that employs the most beneficial nutraceutical and herbal ingredients to provide you with maximum benefit.

- Vitamin E (as DL-Alpha Tocopherol Acetate)
- Iodine (from Kelp Powder)
- Selenium (as L-Selenomethionine)
- Manganese (as Amino Acid Chelate)
- Molybdenum (as Amino Acid Chelate)
- L-Tyrosine
- Forskohlii Root Powder
- Icelandic Kelp Powder

Iodine is an essential element that enables the thyroid gland to produce thyroid hormones. Everyone needs the proper amount of iodine for optimal thyroid function. Vitamin E aids in the conversion of T4 into T3, the usable thyroid hormone. Vitamin E helps the body uptake iodine, whose deficiency can actually cause thyroid disease. Vitamin E protects thyroid cells from harm by decreasing the oxidation of those cells

Selenium is a component of the enzyme that helps convert T4 to T3 peripherally, so deficiencies of selenium may impair thyroid function and promote hypothyroidism.

In short, healthy thyroid function relies on proper supplementation. Thyroid Support provides a proprietary blend of nutrients designed to promote and maintain optimal thyroid health.
